America and England are coming into the contest this year with strong teams and each with the determination to prevent France from carrying back the trophy. Grahame-White, one of England's representatives, has given at the Boston meet the last few days a pretty good idea of what he can do in the way of speed. James Radley, another member of the English team, will leave for the United States in a few days and will be flying here long before the opening of the October meeting.

The crowd scattered in every direction. leaving Levine to fight, sided only by his wife. She stuck bravely at his side and, holding her baby in one arm, struck blow after blow with her free hand at the men attacking her husband.

The money was finally taken from Levine's pocket, but he was fighting so fiercely that one of the assailants pulled out a knife and plunged it into his back five times. Then they broke away and Levine had dropped to the sidehe afterward identified as the one who stabbed him.

As the man dashed into 174 Monroe street Levine was joined by his seventeen-year-old brother Sam, of 246 Monroe street, who had been up near his home when the assault took place. They chased the man up the stairs to the second floor, where they caught him just as he had smashed a window and was trying to leap to the rear yard. The struggle to the rear yard.
